BIG LARCENY CHARGED.

James T. Lennox Arrested in Lynn Last Night.

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 20.—James T. Lennox of this city, one of the largest morocco manufacturers of the country, surrendered himself to the police at the office of Justice Sisk last night, where the preliminaries of arrest and a satisfactory bond were attended to, Mr. Lennox having been indicted yesterday by the Essex county grand jury in 25 counts charging larceny involving $314,403.91.

Associate Justice James Sisk fixed the amount of bail, after consulting the district attorney, at $50,000, and surety in that amount was furnished by Fred E. Baker and Mrs. James T. Lennox, wife of the prisoner, who was immediately released and went to his home on Washington street, this city, where he resides with his wife and two children.
The indictment and arrest of Lennox is the outcome of business troubles, which culminated in September, 1907, when the firm of P. Lennox & Co., which had failed with liabilities amounting to about $2,000,000, was petitioned into bankruptcy.
The complainants in the case are John Walter Farrell, Charles Well and Sumner Well, a Boston firm of note brokers.

Highest Woolen Standards

You've probably heard a lot of talk about "all-wool garments."

Yet, if you took a suit whose makers claim pre-eminence on this ground, and compared it with an Adler-Rochester suit at the same price, you would find—if you knew woollens—that the Adler-Rochester garment is 12 1-2 per cent better value.

Price for price with other clothes, this percentage endures throughout the entire Adler-Rochester line. And added value is represented in the rare style, fit and finish of these famous clothes.

Master designers and skilled craftsmen combine their best efforts in every garment irrespective of its price.

ADLER-ROCHESTER CLOTHES

The shades and patterns of the Adler-Rochester materials are always the most favored of fashion.

The Adler-Rochester style and fit has ever been irreproachable—and unapproached save in the most expensive custom-made clothes.

This should mean something to you. Our fall stock of Adler-Rochester Clothes proves every statement. Suits and Overcoats $18 up.
